“Arthritis does not have to be the end of your athletic dreams. It’s just a challenge to overcome.” — Liam Pasternak THE Irish

In the fall of 2022, Top Ranked New Jersey Junior Golfer Liam Pasternak was sidelined from the game he loves with hip and back pain that would not go away. Liam was diagnosed with Enthesitis Related Juvenile Arthritis which is a chronic autoimmune condition causing inflammation in his joints. The news was devastating to a young man with dreams of winning major golf championships. But thanks to the care of Pediatric Rheumatologist Dr. Jennifer Weiss, Sports Medicine Specialist Dr. Andrew Creighton, Physical Therapist Dr. Kevin Dishon, Performance Psychologist Dr. Nathaniel Zinsser, and his PGA Golf Coach Matthew Wilson, Liam is again competing at the highest level. Currently, Liam is ranked in the top thirty junior golfers in the world and will be playing for the University of Notre Dame in the fall.
